

Successies recht voor niet Nederlands burgers

20 mei 2010

Vraag nummer: 13800 (oude nummer: 15763)

I would like to know if all the rules are still the same if my mom that passed away was a Dutch citizen but did not live in the Netherlands for 45 years and me and my sister are the enheritans but are not Dutch citizens and are living in South Africa

Antwoord:

Dear Sir,

(Sorry for my poor English): I can't be sure because it is a matter of international law. In a last will you can choose the law. Maybe your mother did so. If possible it is best if you contact a notary or lawyer (in the Netherlands or your home country) or ask the embassy.

Stel een vraag:

Op dit moment is het stellen van nieuwe vragen tijdelijk niet mogelijk.